Why do you think you will make a good grant panelist?
---	--

Grant panelists must be able to remain objective when discussing the merits of organizations' applications. For this reason, panelists are asked to disclose any relationships they have with applicant organizations (e.g. they serve on the board or staff, have a spouse or family member who serves on the board, etc.).

Having a conflict of interest with an organization does not make you ineligible to serve as a panelist. However, during the public panel meeting, panelists are asked to leave the room during the discussion and scoring of any application with which they have a potential conflict of interest.

Below is the list of organizations that received Community Arts Grants from Culture Works for 2019-2020. Please note whether you have a relationship or potential conflict of interest with any of these organizations.
